

Elder La-Quisha T. Brown

La-Quisha was born and raised in a loving Christian home in the suburbs of Maryland. Reared by a gracious grandmother who fervently prayed and studied the Bible, it is not by happenstance La-Quisha is a tenacious seeker of biblical truths. As an adolescent, La-Quisha's steadfast commitment to Sunday school, and prayer enabled her to harness the power of education. An avid champion of scholastic advancement, La-Quisha has a Master's degree in Curriculum and Instruction in Educational Leadership.

Whether formally speaking or leading a casual discussion, or offering personal guidance, La-Quisha's unique blend of wisdom, insight and sensitivity leaves an indelible mark on those she encounters.

In autumn of 2014, La-Quisha was honored to marry a distinguished gentleman, a man after God's heart, Joseph L. Brown. Together with the transforming antidotal power of love, we will encourage, employ and empower people to move from poverty of spirit and despair to hope and promise.

La-Quisha finds great joy serving the Lord and is humbled at any opportunities He allows to share the message of the Gospel of Jesus Christ.
